FIDO FEST IS ALMOST HERE

Gather, All Dog Lovers

ARLINGTON, MA, July 11 – Arlington Community Media and BlueSky Dogs are now accepting submissions for Fido Fest, the second annual free dog video festival on Saturday, August 18 at 7 p.m. at Spy Pond Field, Pond Lane near the Boys and Girls Club in Arlington.

For dog owners to see their dogs on the big screen, they can make a video (up to five minutes long) of their dog doing awe-inspiring tricks and just generally being cute, or string together pics of their pup. Videos and pics should be submitted to acmi.tv/FidoFest.

The festival will also include games for dogs and their people, popcorn, and a dog pageant (costumes are optional). Well-behaved humans and pups are welcome.

Arlington Community Media is Arlington's local cable station dedicated to providing an electronic forum for the free exchange of information and ideas which reflect the talents, skills, interests, concerns and diversity of the Arlington community.

BlueSky Dogs is a dog-walking service owned by Canine Walkologist Jennifer Burns. BlueSky provides the highest quality care for each individual dog, and gives them the opportunity to get the exercise and interaction they need.

Visit acmi.tv/FidoFest for more details about Fido Fest.
